

Then the scribes and the Pharisees brought a woman who had been caught in adultery and made her stand in the middle. They said to him, "Teacher, this woman was caught in the very act of committing adultery. Now in the law, Moses commanded us to stone such women. So what do you say?" They said this to test him, so that they could have some charge to bring against him. Jesus bent down and began to write on the ground with his finger. But when they continued asking him, he straightened up and said to them, "Let the one among you who is without sin be the first to throw a stone at her." Again, he bent down and wrote on the ground. And in response, they went away one by one, beginning with the elders. So he was left alone with the woman before him. Then Jesus straightened up and said to her, "Woman, where are they? Has no one condemned you? She replied, "No one, sir." Then Jesus said, "Neither do I condemn you. Go, and from now on do not sin anymore." JN 8:1-11

Saint Mary's Parish

8 Church St. ~ Holliston, MA ~ 01746 ~ (508) 429-4427

5th Sunday of Lent

Dear Members of the St. Mary's Parish Family,

Thank you to all who made this year's 40 Hours Devotion a success – especially those who committed to a particular hour with Our Eucharistic Lord. Each time I visited the church myself, there seemed to be more people present than last year. I especially commend the parents who brought their children and teens to visit with Christ in Adoration, a beautiful example that will remain with them and hopefully move them to seek out Christ in this way when they have a need of His Presence and grace.

Today we hear of Jesus' encounter with the woman caught in adultery. It is a story of surprises. Bound, shoved forward for judgment by an angry mob, vulnerable under Jewish law to death by stoning for her sin, certainly this woman had no expectation of mercy. But, against all expectation, mercy is what she receives through the intervention of Our Lord. Imagine if you went in to see your banker because you were falling way behind on your mortgage payments, and in response to your plight the banker just picked up your mortgage contract and ripped it to shreds saying, "Don't worry, we'll forgive the whole thing." Think of your astonishment at such forgiveness. That is what Jesus offered the adulterous woman – surprising forgiveness. Has it been a while, maybe even years, since you made a good Confession? Do you doubt God's promise of total healing and forgiveness in the Sacrament? Does it seem too easy, too good to be true? Come and be surprised at the power and mercy of your God. You won't be the first.

The most impressive thing about the woman caught in adultery is that she does not deny her sin. This is not the woman "accused" of adultery, but the woman "caught in the very act" of adultery. Her guilt is great, but Jesus' grace is greater, as He says, "Neither do I condemn you. Go, and from now on do not sin anymore." It's not by accident that every Confession includes an Act of Contrition, a prayer wherein we not only repent of our sins, but also pledge to "amend our life" – the very thing Jesus required of the adulterous woman. Sometimes we forget that through this great Sacrament, Jesus not only forgives us, but strengthens us to resist future temptation. May this too be one of the graces experienced by all of us through Confession this Lent.

May the Lord of Our Lenten Journey continue to bless you and yours.

Under His Mercy,

Rev. Mark J. Coiro
Pastor

AN UNWAVERING LIGHT by Joy Lenton

His kind, limpid-liquid gaze brushed mine like fine, pellucid pearls glowing lantern-bright—a steady, unwavering light—reading the depths of my soul

He didn't recoil; rather, he looked with love, compassion, deep understanding as though he already knew everything good bad or indifferent there was to know

*And I barely lifted my head, kept my sight glued to ground, where I had been so carelessly thrown, used to feeling shamed
by those whose eyes scathingly sought mine*

Yet this Man stooped down, wrote silently upon parched dusty ground, spoke in surprisingly soft, gentle tones which carried the authority of God Almighty making cowards of others—drawing gratitude from me.

TWO IMPORTANT THINGS TO “GIVE UP” FOR LENT THIS YEAR

Lent is a time when we take a hard look at our lives as Catholics and as a Catholic Community. It is an ideal time to identify and work on any ways we may have become liturgically lax or spiritually sloppy at Mass.

I will give up missing the Scriptures at Mass:

Although we should do all we can to avoid it, occasionally circumstances beyond our control may make us a bit late for Mass. However, if we enter the Church so late that we miss all of the Scriptures, the Gospel being the last of these, then we have missed that Mass. Church teaching is very clear that the Liturgy of the Word and the Liturgy of the Eucharist together constitute the Mass. If it is a Sunday Mass, entering after the Gospel does not fulfill the Sunday Mass obligation – that Mass has been missed. For this same reason, anyone entering a Mass after the Gospel, should refrain from receiving Communion.

In Catholic tradition, the celebration of God’s Word is considered necessary before receiving Communion. The Scriptures open, purify and prepare the soul to meaningfully receive the Body and Blood of Jesus. Remember on the Road to Emmaus, how the Risen Lord first shared the Word of God with the two disciples as He walked with them, and then they recognized Him in the breaking of the Bread? Even when visiting the sick, we never just give them Communion – a Scripture is always read first. Sadly, we have a growing number of persons habitually entering Mass after the Gospel – or even after the Consecration – and still receiving Communion. It has become an epidemic at our daily Masses, where people do this almost every day – many of them then walking right out the door after receiving.

The Mass is not a McDonald’s Drive Thru. It is the Upper Room, where Jesus gathered with His disciples, spoke God’s Word, and then shared the gift of Himself as Eucharist. It is not a place to “pop in and grab a bite on the fly,” but rather a place to rest and encounter Jesus meaningfully in Word and Sacrament. Please respect the Word of God, and acknowledge its importance, by arriving at Mass in time to experience it. And please refrain from receiving Communion if you have not first prepared to do so by hearing the Word of God at that Mass. Let us all honor and imitate the manner of Worship that Jesus Himself laid out for us.

I will give up reading the bulletin during Mass:

Recently the priests who assist at St. Mary’s have noticed a lot of people reading the bulletin when they are trying to preach on the Gospel. All of our priests study and work hard to “open up” God’s Word through the Sunday homily. Imagine if you spent a whole week preparing to talk to someone about an important matter, choosing just the right words, trying to approach the topic in the best way. Then at week’s end you are finally with that person. You begin to talk to them, and they pick up a newspaper to read while you are speaking to them. How would you feel? You would feel that you do not have their full attention. Even if they said, “I’m listening,” while looking down at their newspaper or cellphone, you would still find their behavior to be rude and disrespectful. Reading the bulletin, or the Pilot, or whatever when the priest is trying to speak to you through the homily is extremely disrespectful - both to him and to the Word of God he is trying to proclaim. It also sets a terrible example for the young people of our parish.

The parish bulletin is meant to be taken home for reading. If you have fallen into the bad habit of reading it during Mass – especially at the homily – please use this Lent to reclaim your reverence. If you see a family member doing this during Mass, please talk to them about it at home. If you see a stranger doing this at Mass, please say a prayer for them. We would hate to become one of those parishes where the bulletin and Pilot can no longer be put out until the end of Mass. St. Mary’s Parish has a tradition of reverence and courtesy that a little self-control can help us all reclaim this Lent.

CLOW- CHILDREN K-6: CHILDREN'S LITURGY OF THE WORD: Today, Sunday, April 7, the children will remain in the church with Fr. Mark and learn what Jesus teaches us in the Gospel reading.
